

MORNING APPEAL.

Tuesday.....April 21 1885.

ACTOR VERSUS SPECTATOR.

Barry Sullivan, the Irish tragedian, was playing in "Richard III," some years ago at Shrewbury, in England. When the actor came to the lines: "A horse! a horse, my kingdom for a horse!" some one in the pit called out: "Wouldn't an ass do Mr. Sullivan?" "Yes, responded the tragedian, turning quickly round to the inter-raptor; 'please come round to the stage door.'" But Sullivan found it different when playing at Chicago. A young mother in the audience tried in vain to quiet her babe which was disturbing the play. The cries of the child became very annoying, and at last the actor, to be witty, said in a stage whisper to the audience, "Wanted, a wet nurse!" A laugh greeted his remark. This was followed by a perfect storm of applause when the mother, who had risen to leave the theater, turned and faced the actor and exclaimed, in a tone loud enough to be heard all over the house, "No Irish need apply."

FOR RENO ONLY.

The strike at the State Prison is not likely to do Carson people much good. Not a single Carson man has yet succeeded in making a location all to himself. Yesterday Hon. C. C. Powning was in the city and made five locations for Reno. In a few days, doubtless about half of the favored denizens of Reno will be on hand to take everything in sight. Mr. Bell never leaves Reno out when any good thing is there.

A Santa Fe, N.M., dispatch of the 13th instant says that Capt. John Ayers, who came into New Mexico with California volunteers in early days, and was for a time in command of Fort Marcy here, publishes a two-column article, stating that he has discovered the original warm mineral springs which the Aztecs filled up and hid at the time of the Spanish invasion, March 10, 1680. The springs are about four miles east of Santa Fe, and an analysis of the waters as returned by Dr. Huntington, Curator of the Medical Museum of the United States Army in Washington, indicate the presence of many celebrated springs of Germany. The announcement of the discovery creates profound excitement in the city, and hundreds are preparing to visit the springs. A company will be formed to improve the springs and bring them into notice as a health resort.

The rumor last week that the Richmond Company has purchased the Eureka Con. and Albion mining property, and also the Eureka & Palisade Railroad, proves to be unfounded, much to the delight of the citizens of that camp, as they are opposed to the control of the entire mining district falling into the hands of the Richmond Company, which is owned by English capitalists.

Mr. J. C. Todman, who has been running the Lyon County Times for the past few weeks, has returned and resumed work at the State Printing Office.

Seeking His Reward.

New York, April 20.—A Washington special to the Herald says: Edward McSweeney, the famous suspect, who was left in English prison so long because, as he alleges, Blaine and Lowell would not demand his release therefrom, had an interview with the President today. McSweeney was in much demand as an orator during the last campaign, and he now wants as a reward for his services, the position of Collector of the Port, of San Francisco, California Democrats, however, insist that as McSweeney has not resided in California for eleven years he cannot claim any of the patronage that ordinarily would go to that State. They are perfectly willing that he should be provided for, as Capt. O'Meara's Condon, now a resident of New York, was provided for by the Republicans upon his release from a British prison, by a Government position, but think he should be given a place in some department similar to that given to Condon.
